

Why are we engineers?

For whose benefit do we work?

What is the full measure of our moral and social responsibility?