

Value Creation from Molecules to Enterprises – Naoko Akiya (Dow Chemical)

Molecular tailoring of products to meet the end use performance requirements through structure-property relationships

Resins for packaging applications (2014-present)
Oil field chemicals for oil sands production (2011-2014)

Maximizing value creation through effective use of assets and resources
Making data-driven investment decisions with appropriate level of risks

Support of various Dow businesses (2001-2011)

→ Information flow
→ Material flow